Stenklas Obara, who runs a grocery store at No. 47 Main street, was charged in the police court Saturday morning with selling intoxicating liquors to Felix Lesniowski, also of this city. Obara entered a plea of not guilty and his case was postponed for one week, bonds being fixed at $100. The arrest of Obara by the local police followed the arrest of Lesniowski for intoxication Thursday night last. Obara complained about the latter and the police made the arrest. Lesniowski then turned against Obara, stating Obara sold him liquor. Lesniowski was charged with stealing a quantity of meat from a box he had taken out of the store.

Lesniowski stated to the court that he was in Obara's place about 3 o'clock in the afternoon of the day in question, being accompanied by Peter Susako. He bought a bottle of Jamaica ginger for 50 cents and four glasses of "older" at five cents a glass. The ginger, he drank it, Susako drinking only straight cider. The cider was not sweet and had some kick, according to Lesniowski. He gave Obara a $5 bill and the latter was charged to keep account of it as payment of a grocery bill owed by Lesniowski, but when informed that the money was to be used to buy an axe he returned the change. Lesniowski returned that evening and claimed that Obara told him he could have the box if he could put it on his shoulder. He admitted getting pretty drunk on the cider and ginger.

Obara claimed he bought the cider from a Windham farmer and that it was sweet. He had only two gallons of it and did not have cider in his store at all times. He sold the Jamaica ginger to Lesniowski when the latter said he had a stomach ache and was going into the woods to work. Obara did not see the latter mix the cider and ginger. He had a barrel of cider in the cellar he was saving for vinegar, but it had not been opened.

An argument arose over the question of money owed to Obara. Lesniowski claimed he owed only for groceries but Obara claimed he owed for the cider and ginger. The case was postponed for one week, bonds being fixed at $100. Both cases were continued to Saturday of this week.

During the past few days reports of team captains engaged in raising money in the Willimantic district have been coming in slowly and Chairman M. E. Sullivan has requested that all reports be turned in by Thursday of this week. Saturday afternoon the number of subscriptions totaled only $1,025.15 or less than one-half of the quota of $2,500 set.

Members of Windham High school are to enter a pool tournament at the T. Play begins today (Monday) and continues until Monday, Dec. 24th. Ten entries have been made as follows: Dick Attardo, Pat Russell, Herbert Sanderson, F. C. Davis, Russell Webster, W. M. Crane, George Thompson, Benjamin Davis, Edward Taylor and David Monroe. Ninety games are to be played during the tournament, each contestant to play two games with each of his nine opponents.

A similar tournament is being arranged among the members of the senior class and six of the ten needed have already signed up. These seniors are J. L. Piche, George John, David Ryan, Hyman Chasen, Robert Bowen and Peter Potigmon.

During Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. 50 stereopticon slides of scenes in Russia were shown and brief explanations were given. Four reels of motion pictures were also shown, the pictures being "Workmen's Day," "The Workers of the U. S. Steel Submarine Company," "City of New Orleans," and "Life on the Battleship New York." Many people of Russian descent were present at the meeting. Presenting the pictures the usual Sunday singing was held and a general discussion took place on the subject "How Can a Fellow Save His Bill When Working on Ship?"

During the past few months Secretary Frank R. Cusack has given 25 tuition scholarships from $7 to $100 each to ex-service men in the city, and announcements have been made that more scholarships can be had upon application. The money used for this work comes from the war work campaign fund of the International Y. M. C. A. and thus far nearly $1,000.00 has been used in this work. The amount of $2,000 has been granted by awards from the local Y.

The happiest plan was presented Sunday evening at the First Congregational church during the social hour. An added attraction was the playing of Prof. J. John.

The week end passed quietly as far as the police and fire departments were concerned. The warm weather is even keeping the usual number of tramps from putting up at the police station night.

Mrs. Booth Moran of Providence, R. I., was the speaker at the Sunday services of the First Society of Spiritualists. This for the district of which this city is headquarters. Many team captains, however, have made no report to Chairman Sullivan as yet, and it is expected that the sums not reported will swell the total nearly to the $2,500 mark. Local residents who have not been approached by any members of the teams are being requested to get in touch with Chairman Sullivan and he will see that they have an opportunity to give to this worthy purpose. When it is considered that 35 per cent of the money raised is to be used in this city in such work as public health nursing, holding tuberculosis clinics and baby clinics, it seems impossible that the quota of $2,500 cannot be reached. The chairman says: "If you cannot take out a dollar membership, give whatever you can afford and feel that the money is going into a worthy cause. Save that quarter, dime or nickel you were going to spend for luxuries and give it to the Red Cross where it will aid some of the suffering people in this district."

The funeral of Mrs. Edna Anita was held Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock at her home, No. 91 Mansfield avenue. In the solemn high requiem mass at St. Joseph's church at 10 o'clock Rev. John E. Clark was celebrant, Rev. James J. Tyler deacon and Rev. John A. Sullivan sub-deacon. The attendance was large and beautiful floral tributes were received. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, Kilbuck Brothers were in charge of the arrangements.

Funeral services for Edgar Gold Hatheway were held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the family home, 191 Prospect street. Services were conducted by Rev. H. C. McCready. The funeral was attended by relatives and many friends. Beautiful floral offerings were received. The bearers were Amos L. Hatheway, Dr. C. Morris Hatheway, Austin D. Boss, Dr. D. E. Taylor, Woodbury Hunt, Everett Moulton, Arthur Everett and Arthur I. Bill. Burial was in the family lot in Willimantic cemetery. Arrangements were by Jay M. Shepard.

The annual cleaning up of leaves and other refuse that gathers in the gutters about this time of the year kept the men in the street department busy in the hill section Saturday.

The dance at the state armory Saturday night was largely attended. Music was furnished by the Majestic orchestra. The bowling teams representing the Y. M. C. A. will begin their tournament tonight (Monday) at the association building, when Team No. 1 meets Team No. 2. was her first appearance in Willimantic as a speaker and message bearer.

George DeJordy, driver of the Blue line jitney that struck and killed Gus Howarth at the top of McLean Hill on the night of Dec. 3d, was before the police court at Manchester Saturday morning and was bound over to the next term of the superior court under bonds of $1,000. He is charged with manslaughter. His mother, who resides in New Haven, qualified as his surety.

Chief Gordon of the Manchester police, who investigated the accident soon after it occurred, was the chief witness of the state. According to his measurements, DeJordy was on the wrong side of the road. There was an pool of blood on the north side of the road, which showed where the motorcycle ridden by Howarth and the automobile came together, and marks extending for 30 feet showed where the wheels of DeJordy's car dragged. Following the crash, according to a statement DeJordy made to Chief Gordon, he threw up his hands and the automobile dashed across the road and stopped only after the motorcycle was driven into a ban on the south side of the road. William Kanah, who lives in Manchester, said Howarth had taken supper at his home and that the lights on the motorcycle were turned on.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

On account of there being only one ticket—the citizens—in the field, there was very little interest in the borough election which will take place Friday (Monday) after the polls close the business meeting will be held. In addition to laying a tax, the voters will take action upon placing four more electric lights in the borough, one on Broad avenue, one on Park avenue near the Tolland road, one on Elm street north of the house of A. B. Handy, and one on Fish avenue near the entrance to the high school yard.

The public schools will close next Friday for the holiday vacation of two weeks.

GREAT FOR RHEUMATISM

Camphor Lessens Up Throat Stiff, Sore Joints, Reduces Inflammation and Drives Out Pains

Every sufferer breathes a sigh of relief at the first touch of CAMPHOR. It quickly touches the sore spot. Instantly you will feel the magic cooling effect. Then you will know why millions use Camphor for rheumatism. It does not stain and has a pleasant odor. Its remarkable success is due to a combination of Watergreen, Menthol and Camphor, prepared in a scientific way. It is well known that the medical profession and medical papers testify to their great curative properties. Mr. J. is Atlantic City, N. J.

ROAD SOCIETY

The grange held its meeting in the church parlors Wednesday evening.

Dyron Billings left by automobile on a business trip in the state on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth N. Williams were in Norwich Jewett City and Lisbon Thursday.

Miss Grace D. Wheeler spent Thursday in Norwich.

Mrs. Joseph Noyes was in New London Wednesday and attended the meeting of Lucretia Shaw chapter, D. A. R. of which she is a member.

Mrs. Seth N. Williams was a guest at a luncheon given by Mrs. Wirt Break of Stonington Tuesday.

Mrs. Henrietta D. Wheeler Noyes, 74, who died Nov. 26, was born in Franklin, Conn., Jan. 10, 1846, the second child of Ezra and Mary H. Randall Wheeler. Soon after her birth the family moved to North Stonington and occupied the farm which was originally the ministry land of Rev. Joseph Fish, the first pastor of the North Stonington Congregational church, where he lived for 50 years and died in 1912. The house was owned by the Wheeler family; the house was burned a few years ago.

Mrs. Noyes' great-grandfather and grandfather, Hon. William Randall and William Randall, Jr., were born in the house as one of the 13 senators in the general assembly of Connecticut in 1832. Her maternal great-grandfather, Nathan Wheeler, was lieutenant colonel and served at the defense of Stonington. Mrs. Noyes was descended from John Howland and Elizabeth Tilley of the Mayflower.

At the age of 11 she with many others united with the Congregational church at North Stonington and was a member of all its activities as long as she remained there, which was until her marriage with Charles S. Noyes, son of Joseph and Grace Deacon Noyes, Jan. 24, 1877, when she came to live at her home near the Road church. To this church she transferred her membership and became an active member here, being at one time one of the standing committees of the church, also for a number of years president of the Home Missionary society and secretary and treasurer of the Foreign Missionary society. In the work of both societies she was always intensely interested and generous in giving of time, strength and money. Even just before leaving for the hospital she was anxious that a special fund should be raised for the memorial hospital at Yale, Turkey.

In her home she was devoted to her family; her three children, Charles S., Jr., Mary and Ira H., had always her tender solicitude. The two older ones, after their marriage, left the paternal roof and when the world war called for men the young son, Ira, then a practicing physician in Providence, R. I., offered his services, was accepted as commissioned lieutenant and was later made captain of the medical corps. He sailed for France in June, 1917, remaining till the spring of 1919. Mrs. Noyes was much concerned for his safety but proud of his military service and greatly upon his safe return.

Mrs. Noyes was endowed with great courage and fortitude, though being unable for several years to go about actively, still she carried on her household duties and was usually at church and at parish house meetings, working with the others in various ways.

In Masonic hall the following officers were installed by Faith chapter, No. 83, O. E. S.: Worthy Matron, Mrs. Katherine Phillips; worthy patron, Norman Parkhurst; associate matron, Mrs. Dorothy Hurley; secretary, Mrs. Mary Cheney; treasurer, Raymond Cheney; conductress, Miss Margery Brewster; associate conductress, Mrs. Margaret Wilcox; chaplain, Lillian Crumb; Aah, Mrs. Ellen Paul; Ruth, Miss Dorothy Parkhurst; Martha, Mrs. Dorothy Poole; Electa, Miss Ruth Robertson; warder, Mrs. Edith Gray; sentinel, Edwin Gray; grand secretary, Bertha L.
